

Hello All,

Thank you for attending our casual Halloween themed meeting today, October 30, 2012. We enjoyed the home-baked goods, chips, candy and drinks along with stories from our fellow club members. We look forward to seeing you at our next meeting and please feel free to help out in the community in the following two new ways.

Upcoming Events

Feed the Children begins now and lasts until November 13th. You may find boxes all over the Psychology building in which to donate.

“Many children in our local community only eat when they are at school. This means these children Do Not eat from Friday lunch until Monday breakfast. With donations, they are able to eat over the weekend.

Donations: Canned goods and Dry Goods with a pop-top or peel back lids are ideal for children to easily open. All donations are appreciated.”-Posters around Psych Building

American Red Cross Blood Drive The American Red Cross is in desperate need of your blood.

“The American Red Cross is responding across multiple states as Hurricane Sandy bears down on the East Coast. The large and powerful storm could affect as many as 60 million people in the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast, and the Red Cross has workers and relief supplies in place to provide help to people in the path of Sandy. . .

“Almost 100 Red Cross emergency vehicles are mobilizing to distribute meals and relief supplies after the storm passes. Thousands of ready-to-eat meals and relief supplies such as cots and blankets are also being sent into the region.

“In addition, the Red Cross urged people who are not affected by the storm to donate blood The storm has already caused the cancellation of Red Cross blood drives in the region, a press release said, and more cancellations are expected. This has resulted in the loss of several hundred units of blood and platelets so far. The Red Cross has shipped blood products to hospitals in the affected area in advance of the storm as patients will still need blood and platelets despite the weather.

“To schedule a blood donation or get more information about giving blood, people can visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). To give blood, someone must be at least 17 years of age, meet weight and height requirements and be in general good health. Donors should bring their Red Cross blood donor card or other form of positive ID with them.”
